Objectives of Trading Places:

- Increase business leaders' understanding of Helena's public schools and the role of building administrators and to experience first hand the responsibilities principals face daily;
- Increase Helena Public School administrators' connections with the community and their understanding of the business world;
- Provide a forum to discuss common leadership issues;
- Share ideas and a sense of responsibility for public education.

Jeff Downhour, Mosaic Architecture, and Smith Elementary School Principal Pat McNeive share a laugh with students.
